SUGGESTED RUM

Rejects Outside Advice as to Ships Carrying Liquor

BY LAWRENCE MARTIN
WASHINGTON — (United Press)

The United States government rejected a suggestion that the question of bringing liquor to the three mile limit into American waters in foreign ships be left to an international conference of maritime nations.

The government regards the liquor question as purely domestic and will adhere to its policy with respect to admission from all other governments.

It will refuse to recognize the dictation of any international conference such as the world court, if effort is made to take the question.

At the same time there is no question here to antagonize foreign nations. This government is engaged in bringing up to date the old commercial treaties with Spain and other powers. These may become the medium for agreement with the maritime nations on liquor. By this means, the American government possibly will find a way to uphold the supreme court ruling barring up all liquor from the coast.

Even so, the government is not going to eliminate the danger of smuggling friendly relations. A suggestion that has been advanced is that an agreement be made that the nations cooperating with this government in preventing smuggling of liquor shall be given liquor that will allow crews of the trains was returning from Washington from Mt. Vernon and was carrying there a car of sightseers. One car was completely demolished. The wreckage was taken to Alexandria.

Millions of Bogus Revenue Stamps Seized in New York

DECLARED PART OF RUM RING

Arrests Are Made by U. S. Secret Service Men

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Thirteen men were arrested and millions of bogus revenue stamps, whisky and champagne labels with the plates from which they were printed were seized by operatives of the United States secret service in two raids here last night, it was announced today.

Chief Secret Service Operative Joseph A. Palma who conducted the raids, declared that the men had been flooding the country with the fake labels. Presses and other printing paraphernalia were seized.

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The arrest of thirteen men in New York and the seizure of counterfeit revenue stamps, medical liquor prescriptions and withdrawal stamps was declared today by Chief Moran of the secret service to be one of the most important raids conducted by the government in many months.

The chief charged that the men arrested had been working with several other groups, one of which manufactured concoctions sold as liquor, while another employed medical prescriptions to deplete the supplies of legitimate liquor in drug stores and the third used the forged withdrawal permits to obtain liquor from bonded warehouses.

LAUDING OF DEBS CALLED INSULT

Harry Davis Hits Efforts to Free Political Prisoners

ATHENS, Ohio. — (Associated Press) — Characterizing recent presentation to President Harding by high public officials of appeals for the release of war-time political prisoners as "false sentimentality," former Governor Harry L. Davis, speaking to the chamber of commerce here today criticized "efforts to throw a halo of glory over those found grossly disloyal to the nation."

Referring specifically to Eugene V. Debs, who has been bailed to speak in Cleveland, Davis' home city, the former Ohio governor declared he had "no patience either with un-Americans or those seeking to curry favor with them."

"In Cleveland," he said, "we have the spectacle today of a public bill board announcing a speech to be made there by Debs and referring to him as 'America's best loved man'—this of an individual convicted of grave disloyalty to this nation and at liberty now only by the grace and generosity of our president."

"This brazen insult and affront to every loyal, red-blooded American citizen is perpetuated by that very element which is being catered to by efforts to influence the president to release other political prisoners."

Davis also spoke of the reorganization of the state government under his administration and beneficial effects resulting from it today; warned against interruption of the policy of construction of substantial roads and again urged the establishment of a four year term for governor.

FACES CHARGE OF KILLING 33

Trial of Confessed Russian Murderer Under Way

MOSCOW — (Associated Press) — The trial of Vasilia Komaroff for the murder of 33 persons opened today. Such extraordinary interest has been manifested in the case that the proceedings are to be held in the large Polytechnic Museum.

Komaroff, in his cell, told the correspondent he hoped the court would make a speedy job of it and shoot him quickly.

"I am 52, have had a good time and don't want to live any longer," said the mild-eyed peasant. He then remarked calmly that murder is "an awfully easy job," adding:

"I killed a man who tried to beat me in a horse trade. He was the only one who ever resisted. It was very easy—I just knocked them on their heads with a hammer or strangled them."

The prisoner said he could not even remember some of his victims. He has thrice tried suicide.

ALLIED INVADERS OF RUHR CLASH

France Frowns on Policy Proposed by Belgium

EXPECTED TO BE REJECTED

Rupture Nears as Premiers Open Conference

BRUSSELS — (Associated Press) — Today's discussions among Premier Poincare, Charles De Lasteyrie, French minister of finance, Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jaspar of Belgium are regarded in official circles as constituting the most important meeting between the two nations since the French entered the Ruhr.

No attempt is made in the Belgian capital to hide the fact that the ministers are meeting with widely divergent viewpoints as to the scope the conference should have. The Belgians practically have announced their intention of asking a full discussion of the reparations problem as a whole, while Premier Poincare has signified that he preferred the Brussels conference should deal only with the exploitation of the Ruhr and kindred subjects.

The Belgians have prepared a definite reparations program which France is not expected to accept as the French premier already has announced his intention of not discussing the principles of reparations.

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — What is stated to be an official abstract of the Belgian proposals on German reparations under discussion today by the heads of the French and Belgian governments in Brussels is printed by the World today.

According to this abstract the Belgian plan fixes the total indemnity to be collected from Germany at 40,000,000,000 gold marks with service on the debt computed at six per cent interest plus a one per cent sinking fund making the German payments work out at 2,800,000,000 gold marks a year.

To meet these payments, revenues from the German state railways, from special monopolies and from coal deliveries are proposed—one billion gold marks from the railways, 1,530,000,000 from the special monopolies and 340,000,000 from coal deliveries. The monopolies proposed which are sale monopolies, not based on production or manufacture would be on tobacco, sparkling wines, beer, still wines, spirits, sugar, salt, matches and light wines, and electric apparatus, the total calculated at 1,530,000,000 gold marks annually.

The monopolies would be assigned to the reparations commission which would farm them out to private syndicates, including German interests.

The Belgians contend that far greater revenue than now could be yielded by the German railways as the freight and passenger rates in force fail to correspond by a great deal to the depreciation of the mark and they are not now run on sound economical lines, largely because of fifty per cent increase over the pre-war personnel.

It is declared that the taxation proposed is calculated on a figure lower than that actually prevailing in France and England.

CUNO'S NEW OFFER

BERLIN — (United Press) — Life of the Cuno cabinet depends on the reception of the new reparations offer now on its way to the allied capitals.

In the face of strenuous opposition from many sides, because of failure to reach some conclusion with the allies that will lift Germany's present burden, Chancellor Cuno is understood to have proposed:

1—Payment of approximately a billion and a half gold marks yearly.

2—Settlement of the exact terms to be left to an international conference.

Contents of the documents will be officially divulged upon receipt by the allies.

The first business session was held today with Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, presiding.

"Iowa farmers have been in good shape for four or five years, but the man who is milking cows has been in better shape than the others," W. B. Barney, Des Moines, for twelve years dairy commissioner of the state, declared.

W. H. Mott, secretary of the Kansas Holstein-Friesian Association said that "the dairy farmer is the only one getting by."

"In Kansas banks are quite willing to loan money to purchase dairy cattle," he said. "The business men of Independence have just agreed to loan farmers money to buy 500 dairy cattle."

Padlock Law for Ohio Goes Into Effect Tomorrow

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Ohio court judges beginning tomorrow will be able to emulate their colleagues on the federal bench by looking up premises on which the manufacture or sale of liquor has become a nuisance.

The new law permits the state courts to lock up for a period not exceeding one year any building, premises, boat or other structure in which there has been repeated violation of the prohibition laws and which, because of this, is declared by the court to be a nuisance.

Federal courts have exercised this right under the Volstead act. With the Gordon law effective, the complete prohibition program of the last legislature will be in operation, the Bender bill, bolstering up the state enforcement act having become effective last month.

CHICAGOAN SLAIN IN HOLDUP

Daring Robbery, Murder Committed by Young Female

DRIVES OFF IN VICTIM'S CAR

Extended and Sensational Hunt Follows Her Escape

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — A dainty girl who might easily pass for a popular debutante scarcely out of her teens is being sought today as a bandit and murderer in one of the most extended police hunts on record in Chicago.

She shot and killed Richard C. Tesmer prominent and wealthy insurance man after directing a male accomplice in a holdup of Tesmer and his wife outside the garage at their home late last night.

After firing the shot the girl snapped commands to her companion leaped into Tesmer's automobile and drove away as calmly as if she were embarking on a moonlight ride with her favorite beau.

Two hours later the abandoned machine was found near the scene. The slaying, characterized as without parallel in wantonness, was the first committed by a woman bandit in Chicago.

WATCH SCORED
Tesmer was returning home with his home after a visit with his sister. Just when he started to back his automobile into the garage, the girl and man stepped out from the shadows and commanded the couple at the points of pistols to put their hands up and get out of the car.

Her companion silently stood by as the girl searched both captives. The purses of Mr. and Mrs. Tesmer yielded only a small amount of money. The girl demanded jewelry but scorned the watch which Tesmer promptly handed over.

ONE SHOT FIRED
As the male bandit struggled with Mrs. Tesmer in an attempt to force her wedding ring from her finger, Tesmer moved and without a word the girl bandit swung her pistol around and fired one shot. He fell, dying instantly.

Mrs. Tesmer hysterically fell over her husband's body as the bandit pair sped away in the automobile.

The Tesmer's daughter Clara, a Northwestern University senior, who was in the house alone at the time, heard the shot and reached the door to see her mother fall.

FARM SITUATION SUMMARIZED

County Agent Gets Committee Report on Crop Status

HOG PRODUCTION EXPANDED

Movement of Wool to Columbus Warehouse Started

That domestic demands for farm products will depend upon the general level of business conditions and that the present period of prosperity will continue from six to nine months is the conclusion of a committee from the department of agriculture which has completed a report on the status of the farm outlook in the United States.

Producers of the country must also face the prospect of absorption before the close of the year, of a surplus of more than six million hogs and 250 million pounds of stored meat products, according to the report in the hands of H. J. Ridge, Allen county farm agent.

Corn situation throughout the country is normal, the report indicates, with a tendency to shortage because of the great number of hogs being fed.

Hog production all over the country is in a state of expansion, with a resultant depression in price. Pork production has increased 39 per cent over last year, it is shown and the storage holding of pork and lard in the country amounts to 929 million pounds.

Concomitant with the increased pork production is an enlarged volume of consumption, but there remains to be used before the end of the year the 250 million pounds of stored products.

Consignment of wool contracted during the spring wool pool to the Columbus warehouse will result in the transfer of about 55,000 pounds, C. F. Mertz, of the local office, stated Wednesday.

SOIL MADE RICH BY ICE FLOES

Fertility of Middle West Lands Explained by Geologist.

EVANSTON—(Associated Press)—Farmers living in the fertile valley of the middle west may attribute their rich crop yields, fat swine and excellent butter to the fact that more than 50,000 years ago their acres were covered with ice.

This is the gist of the findings of Professor William H. Haas of the geology department of Northwestern University, who has made a study of the subject, concentrating his observations upon Ohio.

Comparing the glaciated section of the continent and the driftless area Professor Haas found that the soils in two differed. In the glaciated land the soils are so diversified and of better quality, he states.

"With this asset it is little wonder that the farmer living in the zone which aens ago had been covered with ice should find himself better off than his brother of the driftless area," says Professor Haas.

"This area covers some 10,000 square miles and embraces northwestern Illinois, a small part of Iowa, southwestern Wisconsin and Minnesota."

The geologist, in explaining the action of the ice and why that portion of the earth's surface touched by it should yield to man an abundance of crops, said that the pressure exerted by the glaciers 50,000 years ago pushed the rocks and mixed the dirt, they layed southward; hence the many soils.

"It is remarkable," said Professor Haas, speaking of Ohio, "to notice how, suddenly, the tall corn will end and be neighbored by stunted stalks and shriveled ears."

"All this is on account of the fact that hundreds of centuries ago some rocks of a particular hardness, able to withstand the onward sweep of the ice-fields from the north, deflected the fields, thus leaving the area which the rocks appeared to protect, unglaciated. That, in my opinion at least, accounts for those 10,000 square miles of comparatively poor soil, or, as we geologists say, the driftless area."

Professor Haas stated that the demarcation between the healthy grain and the sickly, stunted grain was so distinct as to form a well-defined line showing the boundary between the glaciated and non-glaciated land.

Professor Haas explained that many authorities do not hold to this view, professing themselves unable to account for the driftless area; others, he said, went so far as to question the existence of the so-called driftless area.

WATER SHORT AS MERCURY SOARS

Lack of Rain Adds to Seriousness of Heat Wave

DEATH LIST IS INCREASED

Akron Boy is Victim of Sweltering Weather

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—The toll of the hot wave which has gripped Ohio for the past five days and which was temporarily halted last night with a general rainfall over the state had claimed two lives today in addition to numerous prostrations. Three other deaths by drowning have been reported indirectly due to the hot weather.

While the rain last night served to lower the torrid temperatures of the past week, today again promises to be warm, according to the weather bureau here.

Ice shortages and curtailment of deliveries in a number of cities as accompaniment to the sweltering weather have been reported. Many municipalities are also faced with serious water shortages.

June King, eleven months old, died from heat prostration in Akron, Dayton reported two heat prostrations. Police there reported one young woman mentally unbalanced as a result of the heat.

WATER SHORTAGE

While a Findlay council committee is investigating the ice shortage there, Mayor Harry R. Rodebaugh declared the city would go into the ice business unless the ice company acted promptly to insure the city a sufficient supply.

As the dry spell continued Cleveland suburbs found themselves facing a serious water shortage unless sprinkling ordinances which prohibit sprinkling of lawns between noon and 9 p. m. is enforced, according to officials.

In East Cleveland the water pressure was declared to be the lowest in history by J. E. Barnes of the East Cleveland Water Department.

Nearly 41,000,000 gallons of water were used in Akron during the last two days according to Service Director W. F. Peters. A resolution was introduced in the Akron council yesterday providing for the erection of fifty additional drinking fountains.

FACE SHUTDOWN

CINCINNATI—(United Press)—With only a slight break in the heat wave the Cincinnati waterworks today faced the danger of a shut down.

The city council has failed to act on a petition of waterworks laborers for an increase from $3 to $3.75 a day. Officials have been unable to replace a dozen men who walked out.

If the workers at the intake pier strike, the water plant may have to be closed down temporarily.

There was a flurry of excitement Wednesday morning when police were notified that someone had held up A. B. Bernstein in Philip Kohn & Co. Loan Office, 106 E. Market-st.

Sheriff Crosson and Bernstein exchanged blows, police say, but later a matter was settled at the police station, without charges being preferred by either.

Life Isn't Worth The Candle When All This Happens

Doing Hamlet's soliloquy with the kitchen paring knife has caused the flow of tears and outburst of voice portrayed so grimly in the picture below.

Also, the injured finger has been properly bandaged. The youthful Lima tragedian will be given some time to think about it and he will start while we meditate—but that is another story.

The tea kettle flight is caused by the tendency of gasoline to induce immediate elevation when it comes in contact with fire.

Mrs. Linda House wife became vexed at the slowness of her wood burner and decided to hurry things along. She did.

The practical moving picture below was taken at Mah-l-st. The occasion of the rush is a local motorist who imagines the life of a sale for his car included solo interest in the public highways.

Perhaps Traffic Officer Bruce Sadders will disillusion the motorist one when he gets to High-st. The hurried heroes hope so.

Below is illustrated a circumstance that blights the life of a fire. The blight often extends to the pocketbook, leaving it limp, lifeless and lonely.

What the suspended gentleman is saying is not precise because he is not saying anything. But wait till he gets his breath.

AIMS OF LEGION ARE OUTLINED

State Commander Addresses Assembly at Orpheum Theatre

"To give and not to get." That is one of the purposes of the American Legion as defined by Gilbert Bettman, state commander, speaking on the aims and ideals of the organization, at the Orpheum theatre Tuesday night.

"We try to give service to our comrades and the community," Bettman declared. "The Legion is not looking backward toward the service which has been given, but is looking forward to the service to be given. We seek the affection of our fellow citizens not only on the basis of what they did during the great war but what they are trying to do in the present and hope to do in the future."

"In a word, the American Legion is not an ex-service organization," declared Bettman, "but seeks to be a service organization."

Bettman defined the Legion as the one and only 100 per cent organization in the country today. Its power, he asserted, lies in its inclusiveness.

"The Legion," he declared, "knows no economic status, no political differences. It is not capital or labor. It helps those who have little and those who have much. It has but one symbol, 'Our Country's Flag.'"

Bettman was guest at an informal dinner at the Barry hotel prior to the meeting at the theatre. His tour of northwestern Ohio was resumed Wednesday. About eight towns and cities are visited daily.

Dr. E. D. Sinks, of Lima is accompanying the state commander on the tour thru this section of the state. Bettman was introduced Tuesday night by John F. Cover, commander of William Paul Gallagher post.

LIGHTNING HITS CHURCH

Demonstration of Great Electrical Works Staged

PITTSFIELD, Mass.—(Associated Press)—The greatest amount of energy ever created by human ingenuity—more than 10,000,000 horsepower—was created, toyed with and finally docilely placed back in its cradle yesterday by a single man.

The significance of the spectacular demonstration was that twice as much electrical voltage as ever before was produced and safely harnessed. It also was made to do the bidding of a man operating a small switch with all the unfathomable wizardry of a magician, bringing rabbits out of a hat. For a small part of a millionth of a second the power was equal to all the electrical power in America.

The exact voltage was 2,000,000 which, as estimated by Charles P. Steinhilber, an electrical expert, is one twenty-fifth power of a bolt of lightning.

The demonstration was made in the Pittsfield laboratory, renowned among electrical men as the transmission experimentation center. It was in charge of F. W. Peak, Jr., who directs the high voltage research and Giuseppe Facciolli, a cripple, chief electrical engineer of the Pittsfield works.

OBJECT POINTED OUT

Facciolli said the layman might get some conception of the power handled when it was realized the greatest single amount of electrical voltage now transmitted for public use is 220,000—that in California, Peak pointed out that the objective was to keep research ahead of need—so that when it is desirable to carry 2,000,000 volts in a wire it can be done.

A model village was built and the electricity transformed into a bolt of lightning, was whipped back and forth and up and down, striking the lightning arrester of a little church steeple. The artificial lightning was shot thru realistic clouds which rolled and thundered while rain they produced fell in torrents.

The engineers were unable to explain the chemical substance produced when lightning wood, touched by the bolt, disappeared from their sight and left no perceptible residue.

FEMININE RULE IN TOWNS ENDS

Men in Southwestern Cities Are Again in Power

JEWETT, Tex.—(Special)—Here man has come into his own again.

Woman has dropped the scepter of municipal reign and returned to her pots and pans.

Feminine rule in Jewett and her sister town, Thayer, Kas. is over. Husbands wouldn't tend to the home, so the wives rebelled at looking after the official business.

For two years the fair sex controlled the destinies of Jewett and Thayer. Its administrations were replete with civic improvements, beautifying programs, movie censorship and wars on bootleggers and tax dodgers.

The male citizenry unanimously agreed the "petticoat brigades" handled affairs more efficiently than their predecessors had ever done. And the ladies admitted it.

But taking care of husbands, washing children's faces, tidying up the living rooms and keeping the boys cared for, was way too much responsibility. So the women refused to run again when their terms expired.

They're thru with politics, they proclaim to all the world. In fact, say they, the men put one over on them in the first place—by electing them.

Jewett boasts it was the first municipality in the country to try the experiment. Then Thayer copied.

Mrs. J. T. Adkisson was mayoress of Jewett. Her councilwomen were Mrs. J. H. Evans, Mrs. W. R. Dotson, Mrs. Coakley Evans and Mrs. F. P. Harrison.

Over in Thayer, Mrs. Abby H. Forest, club woman, mother of three children, and eight times a grandmother, held forth in the mayor's office. Her council consisted of Mrs. Eunice Rash, Miss Alice Lambert, Mrs. Iva Cross and Mrs. Daisy Savage. Mrs. Hattie Brewster was police judge.

Collecting taxes was the biggest job in Thayer. Texas taxation laws are lenient. Tax evasions were numerous, 'tis said. Lots of folks balked on paying.

Mayor Adkisson saw it differently. And now Jewett holds the all-American record. Every delinquent is back in the town's good graces.

A man was appointed town marshal. During the year he didn't have occasion to make a single arrest. The housework had but one occupant.

That was a bootlegger who dared show his face in town. And, oh, what the women did to him! He hasn't been seen in Jewett since he got out of jail.

And now the husbands are back in power. And the wives in their kitchens.

"But we showed them how," the women declare. "Now let them go to it. We've proved women could govern and govern well."

A woman's place really is in the home. We're thru with the legions of politics. The men shirked their civic responsibilities and shovled them off on us. They didn't do a thing but vote. Now let them do some of the work."

JUPITER PLUVIUS, SOL IN STRUGGLE

Cooling breezes were waited in Tuesday night to soothe the fevered brows of sweltering humanity, perspiring in the first real hot wave of the season.

However, aside from a slight sprinkle yesterday, there was nothing in the way of precipitation to aid in cooling off the atmosphere and bring relief to vegetation. Jupiter Pluvius was again threatening Wednesday morning near the noon hour, crowding Old Sol off the scene with rain clouds and squeezing out a few drops of moisture. Prospects were good for more later in the day.

The current forecast reads: Partly cloudy with local thunder showers tonight and Thursday. Not much so warm in extreme north portion of Ohio. That'll be nice. Rain and cooler, too.

Even the slightest sort of a shower will be acceptable and will aid in boosting the batting average of the joy of living. If there is anything in signs, there'll be relief soon. As this is being written a gentle rain is starting. Ted joins the multitude in the hope that it will continue until the thirst of the earth is slaked.

Farmers are hoping for warm rains, as a means of aiding growth of crops. It is recalled that thus far this season there has not been even one warm rain. Benefits that would accrue to crops as a result of such visitation are inestimable.

LION'S MEMBERS IN SESSION

Rehabilitation Committee Meets to Review New Cases

New applications for training under provisions of the state industrial rehabilitation act were reviewed by the members of the Lion's club rehabilitation committee, Tuesday at the Red Cross Health center.

L. B. Rhodes, of the state department was present to confer with committee members in regard to further activities.

An instance of the value of the rehabilitation work was cited at the meeting. A resident of the state was given training thru efforts of the Red Cross and the local Lion's club. His injury consisted of a useless wrist and hand, resulting from an industrial accident.

Following the accident, he drifted from one place in the state to another, working on the section gangs and odd jobs and when interviewed had been out of work several months.

After consideration by members of the committee, the man was assigned to training with a local battery station and in three months acquired sufficient knowledge to be self supporting.

Expenses of civilian rehabilitation are met by state funds, available for the purpose. The Lion's club is the local agency thru which training is conferred and supervised.

Business men of St. Marys expect to effect an organization of scouts immediately, Conrad said. An invitation has been extended to St. Marys to attend the Lima council camp.

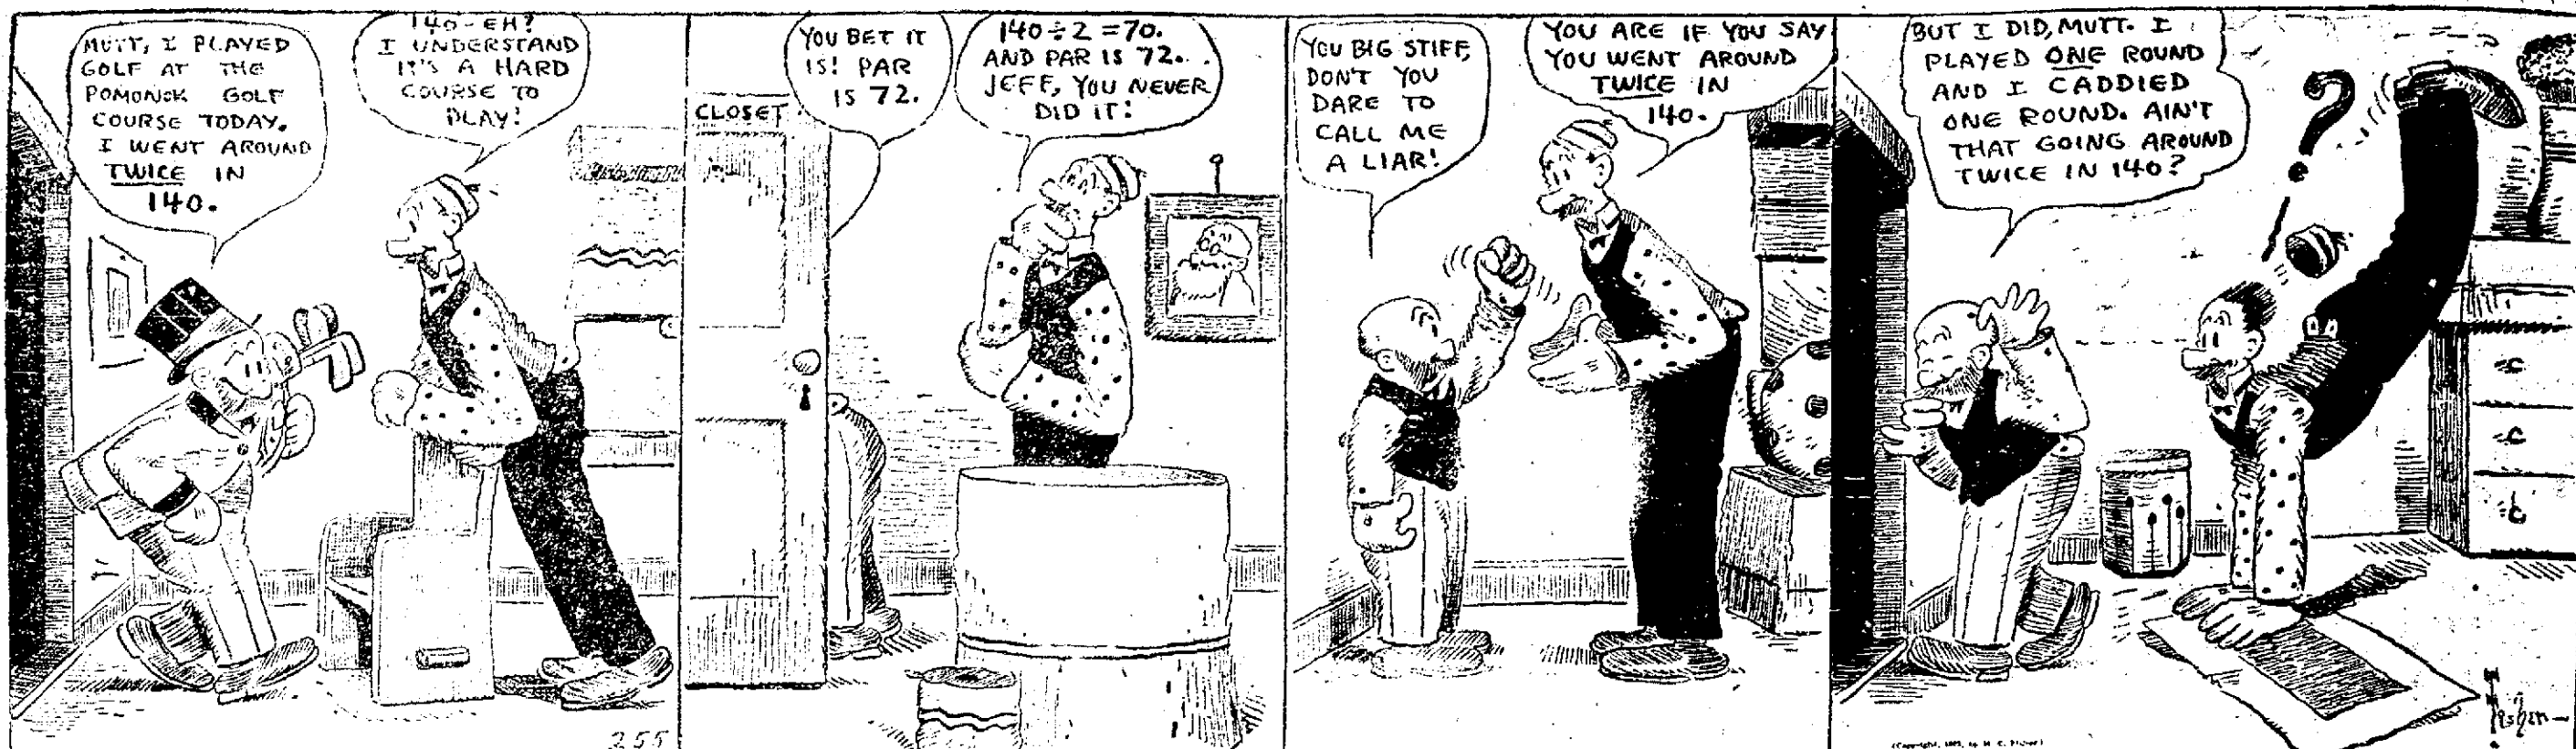

The Present and The Future

YOUR MONEY SHOULD BE SO PLACED THAT IT WILL BE SAFE BOTH TODAY AND TOMORROW.

In the present period of unusual business activity and high prices in all lines, it is more necessary than ever to be careful in investing money. Five per cent interest is a liberal return where safety is absolute. Among the financial institutions of Lima we are known as conducting a conservative business and paying five per cent on deposits. We place the additional profits into an adequate reserve, now more than $92,000.00, as a further

Harley Holmes, orchestra leader, had his thumb in his mouth when he returned from a day's outing in the country, a friend tells. He acted as if he did not love nature very much. "I mistook a turntable for a flower," he said, "and I tried to pick it."

Frank Sealts of Lima, was in Dayton.

He bought a ticket and Pullman seat, the latter marked 1:30 p. m. Having time to spare he lunched in the depot lunch room. His check was $1.15.

That seemed too much. The manager of the restaurant looked at it and admitted that it included an overcharge of 35 cents. He then found that his train had gone at 1:30 p. m. The ticket agent having made a slight mistake in marking it 1:50 p. m.

Eugene Lindemann, recently admitted to the bar, doesn't like cauliflower. There was lamb with cauliflower on the restaurant bill of fare. He told the waiter to bring him the lamb without the cauliflower, but the cauliflower arrived with the lamb.

"S all right," said the waiter, indicating the waiter's companion. "You can give the cauliflower to the other fellow."

Frank Reinemeyer, of Delphos, reports a neighbor woke up suddenly in the middle of the night thinking he heard a drake. He turned on his radio.

"He had moved over to near the edge of his patent cot," says Reinemeyer, "and it had over turned with him, landing him on his nose."

Fred N. Dorrtes tells of a trip on which a fellow passenger, a sporting partner of a prize fighter, was experiencing his first trip in a Pullman.

Friends had told the boxer where to find the washroom. He entered it with the confidence born of physical prowess. A traveling salesman was brushing his teeth. The boxer stood next to him. In a moment he had the bowl to himself. He looked around the edge of it and then he demanded, "Where did that fellow go with that tooth brush?"

F. P. Snyder undertook to take a sheep home in the rear seat of his flivver. This was at Millersburg. He thought he heard another automobile sounding its horn behind him. So he speeded up. He heard it again, and again he tried to distance the other car. When he heard it a third time he drew up beside the road to be the other car pass. Then he found that what he had thought was a strange horn was just the baying of his sheep. As he looked around at the sheep it bawled him to go ahead.

WAS IN BAD SHAPE
C. M. Dibble, 117 Leonard St., Lunenburg, N. Y., says: "I was in bad shape from chronic constipation just a short time ago. My food did not taste good and soured on my stomach forming gas. I was continually tired and had terrible headaches and dizzy spells. My bowels were constipated. I started using Pen-a-day Vegetable Laxative Pills and they helped me from the start. Soon I was cured of constipation and other ailments. They did not gripe me. Now I enjoy life and sleep soundly." Twenty-five cents at all druggists. Adv.

PLANT JUICE GETS CREDIT

Another well known Lima man who recommends this herbal medicine, Plant Juice, is Mr. L. E. Kepner, of 211 West Kirby street, a building contractor who is known by hundreds of local people. Mr. Kepner recently called on "The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, and stated that he has improved so much since taking Plant Juice that he feels able to return to work as a carpenter and contractor after a period of nearly two years of idleness because of poor health. Mr. Kepner gave the following surprising testimonial:

"For the last four or five years I had been troubled with spells of bloating with my stomach just after eating," said Mr. Kepner. "I tried a good many different remedies but without much success. In fact, I seemed to grow worse. I tried a good deal of better and finally I had to give up my work about two years ago because of my condition."

"Finally, I heard about your Plant Juice medicine and started taking it and in a short time I could notice results. I have now been relieved of the spells of bloating and trouble with my stomach and feel so much better that I am able to go back to my work again."

"I heartily recommend your Plant Juice medicine as a fine remedy for stomach troubles."

Decides on Best Life Insurance

"Five years ago I was refused life insurance because of my heart symptoms. Doctors said it was caused from a pressure of gas that came from my stomach, but their medicine did not help me and I was getting worse all the time. Three years ago my druggist recommended May's Wonderful Remedy. I took a course of it and believe it is the best life insurance anyone can buy. It helped me trouble at once. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded."

If permission can be obtained, a vacant lot on Main-st., bought by the Knights of Columbus as a building site will be devoted to auto parking, according to R. H. Jettinghoff, who is heading efforts of Delphos merchants to solve traffic problems in the city.

On Second and Third-sts the south side will be devoted to 45-degree angle parking. On the other side autos must be parked parallel with the curb. Ten feet of space is being marked off at each fire hydrant.

The work was started Wednesday with material purchased by the merchants nine months ago.

EMPLOY KEINATH

Putnam-co School Head Reengaged for Three Year Term

George J. Keinath, superintendent of Putnam-co, was re-employed for a term of three years at a salary of $3,800 a year, by the board of education, Tuesday afternoon.

This action was taken after the board decided it was without jurisdiction to hear charges as contained in petitions of 1,800 school patrons filed at intervals during the past 18 months.

The petitions charged neglect of duty. The documents asked that the county board refrain from re-employment of Keinath.

Miss Ruth C. Frey, of Ottawa, was elected director of the county normal school, a position she has filled for some time, at the same board meeting.

FRANCE CUT OFF IN NEAR EAST

Dealt Blow by Baghdad Railway Ownership Change

NEW YORK—(United Press)—The reported acquisition by a British group of the controlling interest in the Baghdad Railway, signifies a rapprochement between England and Turkey, and the almost complete political and economic isolation of France in the Near East. In fact, with the failure of the French-backed "Banque Industrielle" in Constantinople, France's influence is tottering throughout the Orient—another reason why she must now concentrate her attention upon the problems in Germany.

By a shrewd move—the co-operation with a Swiss bank—Germany prevented the reparations commission from disposing of the controlling majority of the stock of the Baghdad Railway and of the Anatolian railroad, the former's western extension in Asia Minor.

In view of the fact that the French command a majority in the Reparations Commission and that the question of the Baghdad Railway is of extraordinary interest to Britain, the Foreign Office in London adopted the course of co-operation with the Germans in this question. Ever since the conclusion of the secret treaty between France and Turkey two years ago, French diplomacy set high stakes on Franco-Turkish co-operation, and hoped to attain a dominating position in the economic life of the new Turkey.

NEGLECT CHARGED TO WIFE IN COURT SUIT

Charges that Mrs. Flora H. Miller, of Dayton, devoted her time and efforts to social activities, lodge and club work, and neglected her home, were incorporated in a petition for divorce filed Wednesday in common pleas court by Samuel Miller. He sets forth she withheld from him her love and affection.

They separated January, 1922, and property rights were adjusted between them. Miller says that all persuasion has failed to bring back his wife. They were married in Dayton in 1912 and have no children.

Mrs. Golda Mills, in an action for divorce against Charles E. Mills, of Waukegan, Mich., says her husband beat her, knocked her to the floor and that she lost several teeth in the scuffle.

She says she left his home when he told her he would throw her out unless she departed. They were married in 1920 and have no children.

ENTERTAIN HUSBAND

Members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church entertained their husbands to a social party in the church parlors Tuesday evening, at Leipsic.

SEDAN TIRES
for closed and open cars

Closed cars are harder on your tires than open cars. They are differently weighted and throw a different strain on the tires. Brunswick Sedan Tires are the first to meet this new strain. They are perfectly balanced to protect against the stress of top-weighted closed cars. As they are made to give greater mileage on closed cars they naturally give much greater mileage on open cars. And Brunswick Sedan Tires are Friction-Proofed by Brunswick's exclusive process, to combat "road-burn." Come in and let us explain why Brunswicks deliver more mileage.

The Quest For Magic Cures

Since the beginning of time men have searched the world over for the magic cure—and have failed to find it.

Now-a-days most of the searching is done, on the shelves of drug stores. Folks try this, that, and the other "wonderful remedy" with the same result as always.

If all those who are indulging in this "hit or miss" search would adopt NOW the policy of careful living, of regular consultation with the physician and of using no medicine except that prescribed by the doctor—what a difference there would soon be.

Whenever you are ill enough to require medicine you need the doctor's advice.

Let us fill your prescriptions.

AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT

E. L. LEACH, Managing Editor

Entered at Lima, O., as second class mail matter, by mail where there is no Lima carrier. One year $3.00; six months $2.00; one month 50c. MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GOOD PROSPECT FOR LIMA

WHILE the average citizen may pass over lightly the announcement of prospect of Lima being made the terminal of the T. & O. C. railroad western division, there is in the suggestion such a wonderful train of benefits that nothing should be left undone by civic organizations, the city and individuals to attain it.

In addition to giving Lima people a direct rail route to Columbus, for passenger and freight service, the proposal to run trains in and out of Lima over the B. & O. or the D. T. & I. for Columbus, carries with it still further possibilities for quicker and better service to Columbus and points beyond.

It would make this city even more essential as a transfer point for citizens of other communities in the Lima territory which are cut off as we are now from a direct rail line to the capital city. It would pave the way for improved mail service, for freight and express.

However, what would be gain for Lima would be loss for some other city. Should an arrangement be made by the T. & O. C. for the operation of its trains into Lima over the B. & O. Railroad, St. Marys would be the loser, as the terminal of the line is located there. Should ingress and egress for Ohio Central trains here be made over the Ford Railroad, Wapakoneta would be the loser also.

While there is nothing certain about the project being carried to a successful conclusion, it is not impossible—not improbable. Lima is a growing city. If the T. & O. C. management should decide to invade this field for business, it would be a good thing for Lima and the rail company.

Other plans that have come to the fore in the past, for bringing Ohio Central trains into Lima, contemplated the building of trackage to Bellefontaine and were never seriously considered, on account of the expense.

HOARDING HABIT

WONDER how many persons there are in Lima who have a weakness for hoarding any particular article—such as old coins, stamps, fossils, china or picture postals?

At Gallon, Shelby-co., an auctioneer has been selling an amazing mess of "treasure" accumulated by the late eccentric Mrs. Emma Lee. Her old house, when she died recently, was found packed to the ceilings from cellar to garret with a clutter of dishes, tinware and thousands of household articles which she had been assembling and adding to her hoard for 30 years.

The house looked like a warehouse for a general store. So much stuff stood about in boxes and barrels, piled on top of each other, that the owner had a narrow lane for moving thru the rooms. The 37 wagonloads of "junk" have been hauled to the city dump ground, the auctioneer says. It will require weeks to sell what is left. Older persons will recall that Cassie Chadwick had a similar weakness for collecting, tho she cluttered her home with precious articles such as oriental rugs and porcelains.

People in Gallon are puzzled to understand what caused Mrs. Lee to hoard such an array of utensils that she never used—for instance, dishes by the thousands. But she was merely the victim of an exaggeration of the hoarding instinct that is in all of us. The stamp collector is in her class, on a smaller scale.

Mrs. Lee, in hoarding thousands of utensils, was just as sane as the millionaire who hoards more money than he needs. The rich man cannot take his dollars with him when he dies, any more than Mrs. Lee could take her old curiosity shop.

No doubt she derived as much satisfaction out of sitting and contemplating her hoard as the rich man chuckling over his bank account. She at least saved something useful. In the matter of hoarding, some animals are more wise than many humans. The squirrel, for instance, hoards just enough nuts to last him and his family thru the winter. When he has sufficient, he quits.

PROPOSED NEW HOSPITAL

VOTERS of Lima are to be given the opportunity to say whether they want $600,000 bonds issued for the building of a new City hospital. The city commission, after hearing representations of the official board of the humanitarian institution, authorized a vote of the people in the August 14 primary election to decide if it is desired a new hospital be erected with funds derived from general taxation.

While in these latter days the average citizen does not take kindly to proposals for further bonded indebtedness, when funds are sought for hospital purposes an entirely new aspect is presented.

Past experience has been that Lima people take kindly to hospital building and support.

WEANING THE BABY

The best antidote we have yet found for excessive acid retention, be it uric, lactic or carbonic, is more oxygen. That is, more oxygen than the ordinary sedentary valetudinarian absorbs in the course of a day's loafing. I hope this may catch the fleeting interest of these groups of persons:

Teachers, whose education has been sadly neglected.

Merchants who are addicted to all play (around the store) and no work (around the garden, lawn, links or diamond.)

Folks who are victims of flivver trouble.

Such acid substances as are formed in the body and sometimes retained in excess, or rather not so promptly destroyed and eliminated as they should be, are products of incomplete combustion. Take uric acid as an example. It is normally produced in certain quantity by ordinary functional and muscular activity from the partial oxidation of nitrogenous matter; more complete oxidation of the same nitrogenous matter produces urea not uric acid, and further oxidation of the same matter produces ammonia. The fatigue produced by muscular activity is due largely to the production of lactic acid as a result of the oxidation of the sugar of the blood which is the fuel that furnishes muscle energy; if this oxidation of sugar is complete the product is not lactic acid but water and carbon dioxide.

There is a pair of little glands which have become popular lately, owing to the effects produced by their internal secretion. The adrenal or suprarenal glands furnish to the blood an internal secretion called epinephrin or adrenalin which seems to be the spark which insures good ignition, complete combustion, active metabolism, good health and all that.

A momentary increase in the output of epinephrin occurs under various circumstances and has much to do with the marked influence of emotions upon all functional activity. Probably the mysterious process of "getting second wind" is merely an increased secretion of epinephrin under the stimulus of exercise which enable the cells of the body to receive the increased amount of oxygen they demand. Certainly when a sedentary indoor worker finds himself constantly inclined to yawn he needs some more oxygen; there are several ways to get it.

Certain individuals of a characteristic type known to physicians as vagotonia complain of a feeling of inability to expire fully; some of them actually have asthma. They are endowed with "large" eyes, slow pulse rate, spare build, cold hands and feet, and probably an inefficient adrenal gland system. Their oxidation is below par. They need something to increase the oxidation process.

Well, this is my favorite stopping place. But for the sake of variety we'll go on with the story. I said there are several ways of getting more oxygen. A tank might do very well if one had a relay of carriers to keep it always at hand. A wee hit of iodine sometimes seems to fill the bill, not more than one drop of tincture of iodine once a day for a month or two each spring and fall, the drop to be taken in a glassful of water. The iodine stimulates thyroid gland function, and the thyroid internal secretion excites the adrenal glands to do their work. But the best of all ways of getting oxygen is the way we'll tell about soon.

MORE OXYGEN

Her tears are very near today,
There's sorrow in her eyes,
For they have ordered her away
Whene'er the baby cries.
There's little beauty in the sun
However fair the day be,
For now the mother has begun
The weaning of the baby.

No more upon her gentle breast
That little face may lie,
No more that little nose be pressed
Against her food supply;
No more by night, no more by day,
That wonderful pleasure may be—
This shadow falls across the way,
The weaning of the baby.

Oh, you may smile, but mother sighs
And now the hours are sad.
She sees the look of pained surprise
In eyes that once were glad,
And in her throat a lump comes up
That's big enough to throttle,
Because her lovely babe must sup
Her dinner from a bottle.

Now bottles can't sing lullabies

When tender babies dine,
Or read the love in little eyes,
When eagerly they shine,
And so she sadly says to me:
"I'll miss her fond caresses,
The cuddling ways which used to be,
Her tugging at my dresses."

"I'll miss her cry for me at night
And all her squeals of glee,
Her smile of welcome and delight
When she discovered me;
I'll miss the tie that holds me near
And long will every day be,
I'm sorry that the time is here
For me to wean the baby."

Palatable Bran Is New Diet Problem

There is no longer any debate about the value of bran in the family diet. In nearly every home it has taken its place as a regulator, not to be used so much for the cure of constipation as the prevention of it.

Many people who recognize the value of bran in their diet, however, find it so unpalatable that cereal manufacturers have recently been devoting much attention to the preparation of foods which contain a sufficient quantity of bran to serve as a regulator, yet keep all of the delightful flavor of the wheat.

Bran comes from the wheat grain. It is the hull of the wheat, and approximately 25 per cent of the wheat kernel is classified as bran. For years, medical and scientific authorities have considered the laxative value of bran is due to its roughage quality, believing that it stimulates the action of the bowels through mild irritation set up by passage of its bulk through the system.

Recently, however, evidence has been discovered that this idea may be erroneous—that bran may derive its laxative value from the potassium salts which it contains. Experiments have been made with cattle in feeding them ordinary bran from which the potassium had been removed chemically without breaking down the structure of the bran. This latter feed provided the same roughage and bulk content as the first feeding, but the cattle became constipated immediately.

From a dietetic standpoint, however, the most important fact is that the bran is a natural regulator which makes the habitual taking of pills and drugs unnecessary. Adv.

WAR IS ON—BUT THERE'LL BE NO CASUALTIES

(BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM)

THE eminent Rex Beach writes a letter to the eminent Theodore Dreiser, inviting the latter to attend a two-day international congress on motion picture arts to be held in New York City June 7 and 8. The invitation is in behalf of the Authors' League. The congress is sponsored by Adolph Zukor, president of Famous Players-Lasky.

The eminent Theodore Dreiser answers the letter in his eminent satirical vein. He says in part, "My mature opinion is that the Authors' League of America might be much more appropriately concerned with the future of the motion picture industry at this time with calling conferences of such forces as it can muster to make safe the cultural and artistic privileges and necessities of serious letters, than which there is nothing more important at this time."

Dreiser then reviews the present agitation for censorship of books and politely invites the Authors' League to take some part in the battle against proposed book censorship. Dreiser says that the motion picture congress strikes him as trivial and unimportant at this time.

That this warfare, conducted on the battlefield of note paper, may prove very warm (but with no casualties) is very likely. However, that is of no importance so far as the future of motion pictures is concerned.

That Zukor is earnest in his attempt to bring about a betterment of motion pictures at this meeting of authors cannot be doubted.

However, it appears to one who is neither engaged in the production of motion pictures and who is not an author, that the logic of neither Zukor, the Author's League nor Dreiser is entirely sound.

No great progress will be made in the further development of the cinema as an art until those making pictures realize that they are dealing in a distinct medium, that the

"Here Comes The Bride" Pleasing Faurot Audiences

THE Hawkins-Ball Stock company scoring a hit again this week with their comedy offering "Here Comes The Bride." Each night the audience has gone away from the Faurot with a smile and everyone appears happy after having seen this big laughing attraction. It has such a well sustained plot along with numerous comedy lines and situations that the audience is kept guessing just how it is going to end. "Here Comes The Bride" runs for the balance of the week with another bargain matinee Saturday.

Incidentally manager Hawkins has selected two plays to follow "Here Comes The Bride" appropriate for the month of June. Next week the Oliver-Morocco whirl and comedy of hilarious honey-moon happenings will appear before local audiences for the first time.

Comedy Will Be Feature Of Sigma Bill Next Week

COMEDY will reign at the Sigma theatre next week when one of the biggest double comedy bills ever presented at that theatre will be the attraction. "A Front Page Story," heralded as one of the best newspaper yarns that has come to the screen, and "Affinities," the delightful comedy drama written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and starring Colleen Moore and John Bowers will make up this excellent cinema offering beginning Monday.

"A Front Page Story" is a comedy-drama pure and simple, with hundreds of laughs. The love plot unfolded in a newspaper office with Rodney Marvin played by Ed and Horton, hasn't the easiest way in the world to love and happiness. The girl he loves doesn't understand him and her grouchy old father doesn't help the situation. So won't speak to him, nor will he speak to her, but love finds a way.

The girl is employed on her father's newspaper and it is her business to read the paper from the first column on page one to the last column of the back page. Rodney knows this and uses the want advertisements to urge his suit. Her Virginia, (that's the girl's name) had refused to listen to him for several days, she reads in the paper.

"Want to renew friendship with a lady who thinks I'm horrible. Object matrimony." This little effect until Rodney had cleared up the troubles that have been between them, had renewed friendship between Virginia and the mayor of the town.

The other half of the bill is equally as potent, for, "Affinities" is replete with thrilling comedy situations. It is a romance of a girl who didn't know that she loved her husband. In the supporting cast are Joe Bonner and Grace Bowers.

Why Grow Fat?

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives, begin to take on weight in early middle age. And because they have heard "Fat and Portly" and because foolishly they believe that ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh well, I rather like fat, anyway."

But that is wrong—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may be dangerous. A decided disfigurement to your necessary activity and pleasure. So why stay that way? No special exercises or diet! No dangerous or sickening medicines! Just a "Laxative" working Aparently pleasant and safe—quickly and noticeably effective.

Surprise Drug Store or any good druggist can supply you with a large box of Wendell's Salts. Ambition for money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

author does not make the picture except in a very small degree. The motion picture must develop its own creative artists. Numerous authors have tried to take a direct hand in the making of pictures, but the only one who has made any appreciable progress is Rupert Hughes, who recognizes that the motion picture is not a literary by-product.

Rex Beach once said that he considered the motion picture simply the means of telling a story with many pictures and a few cutlines. It is difficult to see how anyone in that attitude (and it is the attitude taken by most authors) can do much to develop the motion picture beyond the comic supplement stage.

James Young, director, told me several years ago that some day colleges would have courses in motion picture production which would turn out directors with full understanding of every detail of picture production. It seems to me that this must come about if the art of the cinema is to advance.

The future makers of pictures must be artisans and artists trained for their specific work. Not authors, painters, sculptors, etc., who come into the motion picture fold because of greater financial opportunities and then believe that, because they have achieved success in their former lines of endeavor, they knew all there is to know about an art that is probably more intricate, more difficult of learning than any other existing art.

Most of our poor pictures, and they are in a vast majority, are poor because producers, directors and players are only apprentices at their jobs.

Here's to the day when a motion picture director can boast a degree conferred on him for his proficiency in his vocation. They might be admitted to practice, like attorneys and physicians.

"Please Get Married" is the title of the joint work of James Cullen and Lewis Allen. The authors have afflicted a bona fide clergyman with amnesia and while in the mental condition he meets and becomes a partner of a burglar. A couple of young lovers, whose parents are much opposed to their marriage decide to elope. The crook and man of the cloth enter the Ashley home and the young pair decide to have the minister marry them. The balance of the play hinges on the mad efforts of the parents to advise the elopers that they are not really married and the incidents which follow would drive almost any bride and groom insane. It would really not be fair to relate the humorous happenings as it would destroy the surprise situations and fun.

HOME LIFE MENACED

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of hard work. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them—Adv.

LAMENESS NOW IS ALL GONE

Wife's Long Suffering Ended, Declares Massillon Resident.

"My wife thinks Tanlac is a world-beater, and it's a fact, it does give fine results," says Frank Dalsky, 1605 Wellman St., Massillon, Ohio, well-known shoe-maker for the Zepp Shoe Co.

"She has been using the medicine for quite a while, and anyone can see her wonderful improvement. For eighteen or twenty years she had rheumatism in one of her knees and suffered so awfully that she walked lame and at times couldn't even bend over. She was worse some days than others but was always in pain and handicapped. She had some stomach trouble, too, and suffered from acute indigestion now and then.

"Tanlac has become her standby now, and has put an end to her lameness and suffering. Her digestion was never better, and her appetite is extra fine. Altogether she is in splendid health, and is always talking about the good Tanlac has done her."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere—Adv.

One Carriage That Takes the Place of Two
Mothers who want to save money on a baby carriage will buy one of the Lloyddalets which we are now showing. These beautiful carriages are woven on the same famous loom on which Lloyd Carriages are produced. Like them, they are made of one continuous wicker strand, smooth, fine and strong.

They are, however, much smaller and lighter than the average carriage. And they are so designed that they can be used, when the baby is older, as a stroller. Because of their compactness, they are particularly suitable for any one living in small quarters.

Lloyddalets have the desirable features of all Lloyd Loom Products. Come and see the attractive styles which we are showing.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am 18 years old. My mother died two years ago and since then I have been keeping house for my father and younger children. Now my father tells us that he is going to be married again. I can't bear to see another woman in my mother's place and I am thinking of leaving home and making my own way from now on. Would that be better than staying at home and being with a woman I can't love?

NATURALY I will be painful for you to see this change in your home. But you should not regard it as a chance for the worse. With your co-operation it may work out to the advantage of every one concerned.

If you meet in your present bitter attitude you will make the situation very difficult for your father. Your responsibilities have been very heavy for you and your stepmother will relieve you of many of your present duties and this will leave you free to think of your own future, which is right and natural for one of your age.

Try to be fair to your stepmother and to make a friend of her. Remember that her position is a very trying and difficult one, too. Do this not merely for your sake and for hers, but especially for the sake of your father and the younger children. Remember that you, as the oldest, will by your attitude greatly influence your brothers and sisters in their attitude toward your father's new wife.

Dear Miss Smart: When two girls go to a ball dance without a man escort and a strange young man asks them for a dance it is proper for her to tell him her name and ask him to go the same way introduce him to the other girl.

It is not in good taste to go to dances unaccompanied and to depend upon chance for dance partners. Neither is it in good taste to dance with strangers. If you will observe these conventions, which are in every way reasonable, you will not be confronted by awkward situations like the one you describe. Dear Miss Smart:

LOCAL BOY WINS OHIO STATE TENNIS HONORS

Victor In Doubles,
Singles

Ned Seymour, son of Mr. and Fred Seymour, 826 W. Market-st., is coming home Friday.

And when he comes home he'll bring with him the doubles and singles tennis championship of Ohio State University.

He's won tennis tournaments before and has numerous trophies to show it.

But the championship of Ohio State university is something of which any person may be proud. For it means that the person expects to win out of thousands of students who attend each year.

BOTH TITLES

To capture the singles title is a distinction but to win in both singles and with a partner in doubles, means something which isn't done every year.

There were 164 persons entered in the singles tournament at State. Seymour won thru a number of elimination rounds, defeating all he met on the courts and emerged a victor. One hundred-twenty teams were entered in the doubles.

Seymour is studying medicine at State. After two years of pre-medical work at Michigan he entered Ohio last fall. So this was his first tournament at the Buckeye institution.

SIGMA ALPHA

A silver plaque, symbolic of the singles victory, will stay in his fraternity house at Columbus. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

KINKS OF THE LINKS

What were the scores of Walter Hagen and Mike Brady in 1919 when they tied for the national open, also the scores made in the play-off of the tie?

Hagen and Brady finished in a tie with a score of 301. In the play-off Hagen made a 77 to Brady's 78.

After driving your ball into some long grass in the rough, has the player the right to push aside the grass in an effort to find the ball?

If the ball has gone into long grass and is not in sight, the player may push aside the long grass until the ball is found, but only so much of the grass shall be touched that will enable the player to find the ball and will in no way improve the lie.

A, in a match game with B, plays a stroke with B's ball. Immediately upon doing so, A discovers the error. Can A then play his own ball without incurring any penalty or is there a stroke handicap for having played one stroke with his opponent's ball?

Rule eight says if a competitor plays a stroke with a ball other than his own he shall incur no penalty provided he then play his own ball; but if he play two consecutive strokes with a wrong ball he should be disqualified.

Playing on a strange course, player on reaching the first green desires to determine whether the green is fast or slow. Has he the right to brush his hand along the surface of the putting green in order to reach such a decision?

Player has such a right provided he brush his hand along the green away from the line of his putt.

Is it permissible to concede putts to an opponent as a mark of sportsmanship?

Such a thing is permissible, and very often done, but it is not conducive to good golf, and isn't necessarily a mark of sportsmanship. In any sport the unexpected often changes the result. Conceding easy putts eliminates the chance for the unexpected to creep in. It is much better to play every hole to the limit and always insist on the putts being made.

FIGHT FOR BRITISH OPEN CUP

The rear guard of golfdom has drawn up to join the American invading forces in the quest of the British open title at Troon, Scotland, on June 12.

Departure of "Long Jim" Barnes, Johnny Farrell and Leo Diegel completed the American contingent in the British classic. On the other side they meet up with Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Charley Hoffman.

Outside the fact that Jack Hutchinson has been unsuccessful in obtaining a leave of absence from his club, the American team will make a supreme effort to retain possession of the cup which was brought to this country last year by Walter Hagen. With Sarazen and Farrell to take the place of Hutchinson and the addition of Hoffman and Diegel, the American team should be far more dangerous than it was last year.

As in Sarazen's case, this will be Farrell's first year on the British links. With Barnes it is an old story. Born on the other side, he has made three returns for the open cup. He finished sixth on two occasions and last year fell within a single shot of the "Mug."

Last year Hagen and Hutchinson fared with Barnes and the three practically made a clean sweep of everything in their way. Hagen being the winner. The first time in history a home-bred golfer succeeded in coping the treasured trophy. Barnes came second until Duncan, the Hagen of the British Isles, came along and tied things up. Hutch finished fourth.

With Sarazen it is different. This being his first offense on the windswept courses of England. But great things are expected of the boy flash since his great showing of last year when he won the American Open, the P. G. A. title and the unofficial "World's championship" from Walter Hagen.

The struggle at Troon ought to be between Walter Hagen and Duncan, the two outstanding stars of today. Just as Hagen dominates the field in the States, so does Duncan abroad.

In the British open of 1922, Walter Hagen finished first with 300 and Duncan was second with 301.

Western Team
Victors Over
Easterners

The western teams of the American League came into parks of the eastern rivals Tuesday winning two games and coming within an ace of taking a third.

St. Louis against Philadelphia and Detroit against Washington were the two western winners, but the real thrill was furnished by the last place Chicago White Sox, who frightened the New York Yankees into going 10 innings, finally succumbing, 7 to 6.

St. Louis, with a stronger attack than the Sox, mauled Ed Rommel, and won over Philadelphia, 10 to 3. Cleveland dropped before the weak Boston Red Sox with a chance to slip into second place. They are only three points Wednesday, behind the Athletics, who momentarily at least, have lost their punch. The score was 10 to 6.

The other westerner to win was Detroit which shut out Washington and collected three runs.

DO YOU KNOW
ONE—With runner on first and one out, batter with two strikes on him swings at a wild pitch, which the catcher never even reaches. What about such a play?
TWO—Why doesn't the infield fly rule apply with a man on first only?
THREE—Runners are on second and third and two out. The batsman triples, both runners crossing the plate. Batsman fails to touch second, ball is thrown there and he is ruled out, retiring the side. Do the runs count?
ANSWERS
ONE—With less than two out and a runner on first, the batsman is automatically out when he strikes out, regardless of the fact that the third strike was a wild pitch.
TWO—Because there is no chance for a double play if the batsman will run out his hit as he is supposed to.
THREE—Both runs score. The fact that the batsman was declared out for his failure to touch second does not affect the play, even tho it is the third out. The runners are regarded as having scored on the single.

Mays Is No
Longer A Regular

NEW YORK — Carl Mays, star of the New York Yankees pitching staff in 1921, leader of the American League twirlers this year, is no longer a regular.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees has definitely announced that his big four for the present will consist of Shawkey, Bush, Hoyt and Jones, with Tenack as next choice should any of the first named four falter.

The once famous subway artist has been regulated to the ranks of the substitutes. No doubt his main duty this year will be to act as relief pitcher. Mays with his unusual style of delivery should be a very valuable man in such a role for a few innings.

The decline of Mays is due to the loss of his fast ball. This was his big stock in trade. It dipped much after the manner of a spitball. With the passing of his fast ball Mays lost his big threat and most of his effectiveness.

Jesse McKenzie for Marion-tp
Clerk is Latest in

Petitions of candidates for nomination in the August primary are being received at the office of the board of elections.

Jesse McKenzie, Republican, Marion-tp, Wednesday filed his petition announcing his candidacy for township clerk. Frank Dalzell, 915 W. North-st, was the first Democrat to get in for the August primary. He will run for constable. One Republican, Ira Snyder, has filed.

Discovery or provisions under section 76 of the city charter will in a measure change the method of filing petitions for the city commission, it is stated. The section reads in part: "Petitions shall not be signed by any elector more than 60 days prior to the day of such primary election and such petitions shall be filed with the election authorities not less than 30 days previous to the date of such election."

On all other officers, save for commissioner, the regular provisions of the statutes will be followed. Candidates for justice of the peace, constable, board of education and criminal judge must file 60 days prior to the primary.

Monthly payments may be made by employees either to station depositories or by deduction from the pay roll. Any employee who has been with the system a year is eligible to become a member. Savings funds grow at four per cent interest and retirement pay may be increased by depositing with the association.

Building loans may be secured by members, with the privilege of repaying the loans monthly at a minimum rate of one dollar for every minimum rate of one dollar for every securities in the Pennsylvania system may be purchased thru the association by monthly payment of not less than $2.50 per share of stock purchased.

LIFE GUARDS MAY BE EMPLOYED

Board of Life Saving Examiners to Visit Bathing Places

The board of life saving examiners, comprising officials of the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts and City Manager C. A. Bingham, met at the Elks' club Tuesday afternoon and discussed means whereby life guards can be employed where bathe is permitted. Bingham said the city is unable to pay salaries of life guards and suggested that funds be provided from outside sources. He said that if two official guards are employed, $200 to $500 a year will be needed.

Thursday, 10 p. m. the board started a tour of all places where swimming is possible. These places will be investigated to ascertain the depth and other conditions and swimming holes found dangerous will be placarded with warning signs. The board will likely designate one or two places where swimming is favorable, it is stated. It will be at these places that life guards will be stationed.

Harley Holmes, orchestra leader, had his thumb in his mouth when he returned from a day's outing in the country, a friend tells. He acted as if he did not love nature very much. "I mistook a humble bee for a flower," he said, "and I tried to pick it."

Frank Sealts of Lima, was in Dayton. He bought a ticket and Pullman seat, the latter marked 1:50 p. m. Having time to spare he lunched in the depot lunch room. His check was $1.15.

That seemed too much. The manager of the restaurant looked at it and admitted that it included an overcharge of 35 cents. He then found that his train had gone at 1:30 p. m. The ticket agent having made a slight mistake in marking it 1:50 p. m.

Eugene Lindemann, recently admitted to the bar, doesn't like cauliflower. There was lamb with cauliflower on the restaurant bill of fare. He told the waiter to bring him the lamb without the cauliflower, but the cauliflower arrived with the lamb.

"S all right," said the waiter, indicating the lawyer's companion. "You can give the cauliflower to the other fellow."

Frank Reinemeyer, of Delphos, reports a neighbor woke up suddenly in the middle of the night thinking he heard a dance tune by radio.

"He had moved over to near the edge of his patent cut," says Reinemeyer, "and it had over turned with him, landing him on his nose."

Fred N. Derricks tells of a trip on which a fellow passenger, a sporting partner of a prize fighter, was experiencing his first trip in a Pullman.

Friends had told the boxer where to find the washroom. He entered it with the confidence born of physical prowess. A traveling salesman was brushing his teeth. The boxer stood next to him. In a moment he had the brush in his mouth. He looked around the edge of it and then he demanded, "Where did that fellow go with that tooth brush?"

B. F. Snyder undertook to take a sheep home in the rear seat of his flivver. This was at Millersburg.

He thought he heard another automobile sounding its horn behind him. So he speeded up. He heard it again, and again he tried to distance the other car. When he heard it a third time he drew up beside the road to let the other car pass. Then he found that what he had thought was a strange horn was just the bumper of his sheep. As he looked around at the sheep it bawled him to go ahead.

WAS IN BAD SHAPE
C. M. Dibble, 117 Leonard St., Lunkirk, N. Y., says: "I was in bad shape from chronic constipation just a short time ago. My food did not taste good and soured on my stomach forming gas. I was continually tired and had terrible headaches and dizzy spells. My bowels were constipated. I started using Pen-e-a-day Vegetable Laxative Pills and they helped me from the start. Soon I was cured of constipation and other ailments. They did not gripe me. Now I enjoy life and sleep soundly." Twenty-five cents at all druggists. Adv.

ABLE TO GO BACK TO WORK NOW

This Lima Man Had Been Unable to Work for Nearly Two Years

PLANT JUICE GETS CREDIT

Another well known Lima man who recommends this herbal medicine, Plant Juice, is Mr. L. P. Kepner, of 212 West Kibby street, a building contractor who is known by hundreds of local people. Mr. Kepner recently called on The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, and stated that he has improved so much since taking Plant Juice that he feels able to return to work as a carpenter and contractor after a period of nearly two years of idleness because of poor health. Mr. Kepner gave the following surprising testimonial:

"For the last four or five years I had been troubled with spells of bloating with my stomach just after eating," said Mr. Kepner. "I tried a good many different remedies but without much success. In fact, I seemed to grow worse instead of better and finally I had to give up my work about two years ago because of my condition."
"Finally, I heard about your Plant Juice medicine and started taking it and in a short time I could notice results. I have now been relieved of the spells of bloating and trouble with my stomach and feel so much better that I am able to go back to my work again."
"I heartily recommend your Plant Juice medicine as a fine remedy for stomach troubles."
The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.
Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. Adv.

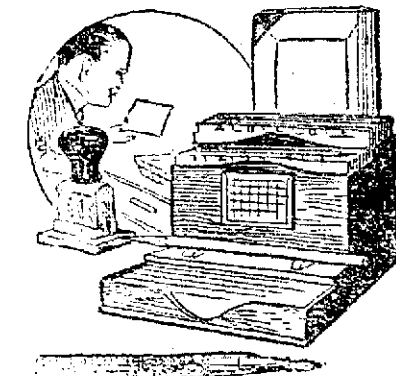

Decides on Best Life Insurance

"Five years ago I was refused life insurance because of my heart symptoms," Doctors said. "It was caused from a pressure of gas that came from my stomach, but their medicine did not help me and I was getting worse all the time. Three years ago my druggist recommended Mayer's Wonderful Remedy. I took a course of it and believe it is the best life insurance anyone can buy. It helped my trouble at once. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded."
